

Chapter 4

Moyfes exhorteth the people to kepe Gods commandments. 15. Namely that they make no fimilitude nor image of man, nor of beaft, bird, fish, funne, moone, nor of anie creature to ferue the fame for the Creator. He foretelleth his owne death, 23. threatneth them if they forfake God, 41. and appointeth three cities of refuge, on the fame fide Iordan.

And now Ifrael heare the preceptes and iudgements, which I teach thee: that doing them, thou mayeft liue, and entring in mayeft poffeffe the Land, which the Lord the God of your fathers wil geue you. <sup>2</sup> You <sup>a</sup>shal not adde to the word, that I fpeake to you, neither shal you take away from it: keepe the commandment of the Lord your God which I command you. <sup>3</sup> Your eyes haue feene al thinges that our Lord hath done againft Beelphegor, how he hath deftroied al his worshippers out of the middes of you. <sup>4</sup> But you that cleaue to the Lord your God, liue al vntil this prefent day. <sup>5</sup> You know that I haue taught you preceptes and iuftices, as the Lord my God hath commanded me: fo shal you do them in the Land, which you shal poffeffe: <sup>6</sup> and you shal obserue, and fulfil them in worke. For <sup>a</sup>this is your wifedome, and vnderftanding before peoples, that hearing al thefe preceptes, may fay: Behold a people ful of wifedome and vnderftanding, a great nation. <sup>7</sup> Neither is there other nation fo great, that hath goddes approaching vnto them, as our God is prefent at al our petitions. <sup>8</sup> For what other nation is there fo renoumed that hath the ceremonies, and iuft iudgements, and the whole law, which I wil fette forth this day before your eyes. <sup>9</sup> Keepe thy felfe therefore, and thy foule carefully. Forget not the wordes, that thyne eyes haue feene, and let them not fal out of thy hart al the daies of thy life. Thou shalt teach them thy fonnes and thy nephewes, <sup>10</sup> the day wherin thou didst stand before the Lord thy God in Horeb, when our Lord spake to me, saying: Assemble vnto me the people, that they may heare my wordes, and may learne to feare me al the time that they liue on the earth, and may teach their children. <sup>11</sup> And you came to the foote of the mount, which burned euen vnto heauen: and there was in it darkenes, and a cloud and mist. <sup>12</sup> And our Lord spake to you from the middes of the fyre. The voice of his wordes you heard, and forme you saw not at al. <sup>13</sup> And he shewed you his couenant, which he commanded you to do, and the <sup>a</sup>)tenne wordes, that he wrote in two tables of stone. <sup>14</sup> And he comāded me at that time that I should teach you the ceremonies and iudgements, which you should doe in the Land, that you shal possesse. <sup>15</sup> Keepe therefore your foules carefully. You saw not any similitude in the day, that our Lord spake to you in Horeb from the middes of the fire: <sup>16</sup> lest perhaps deceiued you might make you a grauen similitude, or image of male or female, <sup>17</sup> the similitude of al cattel, that are vpon the earth, or of birdes, that flie vnder heauen, <sup>18</sup> and of creeping beastes, that moue on the earth, or of fishes, that vnder the earth abide in the waters: <sup>19</sup> lest perhaps lifting vp thyne eyes to heauen, thou see the Sunne and the Moone, and al the starres of heauen, and deceiued by error thou adore and serue them, which the Lord thy God created to serue al nations, that are vnder heauen. <sup>20</sup> But you our Lord hath taken, and brought out of the yron furnace of Ægypt, to haue you his people by inheritance, as it is this present day. <sup>21</sup> And our Lord was angrie with me for your wordes, and he swore <sup>b</sup>)that I should not passe ouer Iordan, nor enter into the excellent Land, which he wil geue you. <sup>22</sup> Behold I die <sup>c</sup>)in this ground,

I shal not paffe ouer Iordan: you shal paffe, and poffeffe the goodlie Land. <sup>23</sup> Beware lest at any time thou forget the couenant of the Lord thy God, which he hath made with thee: and make to thee a grauen fimilitude of those thinges, which our Lord hath prohibited to be made: <sup>24</sup> because the Lord thy God is a consuming fyre, a ieloufe God. <sup>25</sup> If you shal begette sonnes and nephewes, and abide in the Land, and being deceiued make to you some fimilitude, committing euil before the Lord your God, to prouoke him to wrath: <sup>26</sup> I cal this day heauen and earth witneffes, that you shal quickly perish from out of the Land, which being passed ouer Iordan you shal poffeffe. You shal not dwel therin long time, but our Lord wil deftroy you, <sup>27</sup> and disperfe you into al nations, and you shal remaine a few among the nations, to the which our Lord wil lead you. <sup>28</sup> And there you shal ferue goddes, that were framed with mens hand, wood and ftone that see not, nor heare, nor eate, nor smel. <sup>29</sup> And when thou shalt seeke there the Lord thy God, thou shalt finde him: yet so, if thou seeke him with al thy hart, and al tribulation of thy foule. <sup>30</sup> After that al the thinges aforefaid shal finde thee, and in <sup>a</sup>the latter time thou shalt returne to the Lord thy God, and shalt heare his voice. <sup>31</sup> Because the Lord thy God is a merciful God: he wil not leaue thee, nor altogether deftroy thee, nor forget the couenant, wherein he fwore to thy fathers. <sup>32</sup> Aske of the dayes of old, that haue bene before thy time from the day that God created man vpon the earth, from one end of heauen to the other end therof, if euer there was done the like thing, or it hath bene knowen at any time, <sup>33</sup> that a people should heare the voice of God speaking out of the middes of fyre, as thou haft heard, and liued: <sup>34</sup> if God so did that he went in, and tooke vnto him a Nation out of the middes of nations, by temptations, signes, and wonders, by fight and ftrong hand, and stretched out arme, and horrible visions according to al thinges, that the Lord your God did for you in Ægypt, thine eies seeing it: <sup>35</sup> that thou mightest know that our Lord, he is God, and there is none other beside him, <sup>36</sup> from heauen he made thee to heare his voice, that he might teach thee. And in earth he shewed thee his fyre, verie greate, and thou didft heare his wordes out of the middes of the fyre, <sup>37</sup> becaufe he loued thy fathers, and chofe their feede after them. And he brought thee out of Ægypt, going before thee in his great power, <sup>38</sup> to deftroy verie great nations and ftronger then thou at thy entring in, and to bring thee in, and geue thee their land in poffeffion, as thou feeft this present day. <sup>39</sup> Know therfore this day, and thinke in thy hart that our Lord he is God in heauen aboue, and in the earth beneth, and there is none other. <sup>40</sup> Keepe his preceptes and commandementes, which I command thee: that it may be wel with thee, and thy children after thee, and thou mayeft remayne a long time vpon the Land, which the Lord thy God wil geue thee. <sup>41</sup> Then Moyfes feparated three cities beyond Iordan at the eaft fide, <sup>42</sup> that he might flee to them which fhould kil his neighbour not voluntarily, neither was his enemie a day or two before, and he might fcape to fome of thefe cities: <sup>43</sup> Bofor in the wilderneffe, which is fituated in the champion countrie of the tribe of Ruben: and Ramoth in Galaad, which is in the tribe of Gad: and Golan in Bafan, which is in the tribe of Manaffes. <sup>44</sup> This is the law, that Moyfes fette before the children of Ifrael, <sup>45</sup> and thefe are the teftimonies and ceremonies and iudgementes, which he fpake to the children of Ifrael, when they came out of Ægypt, <sup>46</sup> beyond Iordan in the valley againft the temple of Phogor in the land of Sehon king of the Ammorrheite, that dwelt in Hefebon, whom Moyfes ftroke. The children of Ifrael alfo comming out of Ægypt, <sup>47</sup> poffeffed his land, and the land of Og the king of Bafan, the two kinges of the Amorrheites, which were beyond Iordan toward the ryfing of the funne: <sup>48</sup> from Aroer, which is fituated vpon the banke of the torrent Arnon, vnto the mountaine Sion, which is alfo Hermon, <sup>49</sup> al the plaine beyond Iordan at the eaft fide, vnto the fea of the wilderneffe, and vnto the foote of mount Phafga.

ANNOTATIONS

2 You shal not adde.) Moyfes can not meane, that no more should be written, nor commanded; for then the laft chapter of this booke, and the reft of the Bible should not haue benne written after his death; neither ought the Prieftes or Prophetes to haue commanded anie thing not expreffed in the law. And wheras Proteftantes fay that al other Scriptures are included in the lawe, or pertaine to the explicatiō or performance therof: we alfo anwer that vnwritten Traditiōs both in the old and new Testament are likewise implied, included, or pertaine to the explication or performance of the law. For euen as the written doctrin of the Prophetes, yea and of Chrif, and his Apoftles, in general is contained in the law of Moyfes, fo alfo are certaine faftes, feaftes, rites, ceremonies and other traditions proued and confirmed by general fpeeches and axiomes written in holie Scriptures, as by our Sauours wordes to his Apoftles. *Luc. 10.
