

Chapter 40

According to Gods commandment Moyfes erecteth the Tabernacle, vvith al thinges appertayning, the firft day of the fecond yeare after their deliuerie from Ægypt. 32. God replenisheth the fame vvith his Maieftie, a cloude remayning ouer it by day, and a pillar of fire by night, but vvhen they shal march, the fame pafseth before them.

And our Lord fpake to Moyfes, faying: ² The ^afirft moneth, the firft day of the moneth, thou fhalt erect the tabernacle of the teftimonie, ³ and fhalt put in it the arke, and fhalt let downe before it the veile: ⁴ and bringing in the table, thou fhalt fet vpon it the thinges that are commanded after the rite. The candleticke fhall ftand with the lampes therof, ⁵ and the altar of gold whereon the incenfe is burned, before the arke of teftimonie. Thou fhalt put the hanging in the entrie of the tabernacle, ⁶ and before it the altar of holocaufte: ⁷ the lauer between the altar and the tabernacle, which thou fhalt fill with water. ⁸ And thou fhalt compaffe about the court with hanginges, and the entrie therof. ⁹ And taking the oile of vnction thou fhalt anoynte the tabernacle with the veffel therof, that they may be fanctified: ¹⁰ the altar of holocaufte and al the veffel therof: ¹¹ the lauer with the foote therof; al fhalt thou confecrate with the oile of vnction, that they may be ^bmoft Holie. ¹² And thou fhalt bring Aaron and his fonnes to the doore of the tabernacle of teftimonie, and hauing wafhed them with water, ¹³ thou fhalt reueft them with the facred veftimentes, that they may minifter to me, and the vnction of them may profper to
