⁴In ^{f)}the instrument of tenftrings, in ^{g)}Pfalter: with Canticle, on ^{h)}the Harpe.

⁵Because thou haft delighted me ô Lord in thy workemanship: and in the workes of thy handes I wil reioyce.

⁷The ⁱ⁾vnwife man wil not know; and the ^{j)}foole wil not vnderftand thefe thinges.

That they may perish for euer: ⁹ but thou the Higheft foreuer ô Lord.

¹² And ^c)mine eie hath looked vpon mine enimies:
and the malignant ryfing vp againft me, mine ears shal
heare.

¹³ The iuft, shal florish as a palme tree: as the ceder of Libanus shal he be multiplied.

¹⁴ They that are planted in ^d)the houfe of our Lord, shal florish in ^e)the courtes of the houfe of our God.

¹⁵ As yet shal they be multiplied in plentiful old age: and they shal be wel affected, ¹⁶ that they ^f)may shew forth:

That the Lord our God is righteous, and there is no iniquitie in him.

^a The iuft in confidence of a good conscience, expect exaltation of
their powre:

^b and great consolation in the end of their life.

^c The shal the iuft see their enimies deprefsed: and themfelues florish, like the palme, and ceder trees as folovveth.
