

Psalme 127

Happines both of this life and of the next, is obtayned by fearing, and fincerely feruing God.

Feare of God
the vvay to happines.
The 7. key.

A gradual Canticle.

Bleffed are al that feare our Lord, that walke in his wayes.

<sup>2</sup> Because thou shalt eate the labours of thy handes: bleffed art thou, and it shal be wel with thee.

<sup>3</sup> Thy <sup>a</sup>wife as a fruitful vine, in <sup>b</sup>the fides of thy houfe.

Thy <sup>c</sup>children as young plantes of oliuetrees, round about thy table.

<sup>4</sup> Behold fo shal the man be bleffed, that feareth our Lord.

<sup>5</sup> Our Lord out of Sion bleffe thee: and that thou mayft fee the good thinges of Ierufalem al the dayes of thy life.

And that thou mayft see thy <sup>d</sup>childrens children, peace vpon Ifrael.

---

<sup>a</sup> If fuch feruants of God be maried, they fhall ordinarily haue iffue, and fuceffion in their familie; but efpecially the foules of fuch fhall bring forth manie meritorious vvorkes,

<sup>b</sup> in the bofome of the Catholique Church, vvwhich vvvas founded in Chrifts fide.

<sup>c</sup> Children alfo fignifie good workes.

<sup>d</sup> Revvard in heauen for good vvorkes in earth.